DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The claimed invention lacks a proper nexus to any technological art. Rather the claims read on metal computations and manual plotting.

Double Patenting

2. Claims 15-23 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-40 of U. S. Patent No. 6143563 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: A computer implemented method of generating content in an electronic spreadsheet.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In the claim, it is not clear how the row definition is obtained.

In the claim, it is not clear how the first or second column definition is obtained from the statement data.

In the claim, the limitation - evaluating a first or second formula expression generated automatically and solely from the row definition and the second column definition – is vague and indefinite with respect to – automatically -. Clarification is requested.
